

Class President Sharl S. Azar to continue to call OHSU home

Sharl S. Azar, President of the 2010 class, is a Portland native and Lewis & Clark College graduate. He matched in internal medicine at OHSU, his top choice, after interviewing at nine other medical centers including several in the East.

"What really solidified it for me was the faculty at OHSU. I know the internal medicine department here. I've gotten to work with a broad spectrum of the internal medicine faculty during two rotations and a sub-internship here and I just loved them. I think there's a lot more I can learn from them.

They're amazing mentors, people I hope to stay in touch with the rest of my life. That's what sealed the deal for me."

As a student, Sharl did a rotation in oncology at the University of Utah, and found that program very impressive. He can see himself going back there on an oncology fellowship.

School of Medicine
Oregon Health & Science University