

APPLYING TO THE NURSING EDUCATION PROGRAM

The School of Nursing offers a Master of Nursing (MN) in Nursing Education. This online program is designed for the bachelor's-prepared nurse who is interested in pursuing a career as either faculty in a school of nursing or staff educator in a health care organization. The core curriculum prepares students to apply best practices in teaching and learning with opportunities to explore state of the science technologies for high-fidelity simulation and online instruction. Coursework includes an individualized, focused teaching practicum guided by experienced faculty, allowing students to pursue their interests in a variety of teaching and learning environments. A major strength of this program is its linkage with the nationally known, innovative Oregon Consortium Nursing Education (OCNE) curriculum in the undergraduate program.

Besides completing core education courses, students choose a clinical population focus from one of three areas: adult gerontological nursing, community health nursing, or psychiatric mental health nursing.

Our graduates are employed as faculty in schools of nursing, staff nurse educators, and professional practice leaders in acute and community care settings.

Course Delivery: The program starts in fall and is available for full or part-time progression. Courses are primarily online with face-to-face intensives scheduled in some classes. The curriculum is tailored to each student's specific learning interests and needs.

Admissions Factors

Admissions decisions are strongly based on the following criteria:

- Cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher
- 3 Letters of Recommendation
- Essay responses
- TOEFL with a score of 83 or higher (for international applicants), ILTS scores will not be accepted
